Dear Commissioner Henney:

As a member of the Center for Science in the Public Interest (CSPI), I urge you to stop the use of antibiotics used on humans in animal feed. The use of antibiotics in animal feed to promote growth in animals is contributing to the growth of antibiotic resistant bacteria that are increasingly showing up in human infections. If using antibiotics for promoting growth in animals means losing the life saving ability of antibiotics, we have to set our priority for saving human lives. Please consider this and ban the use of antibiotics on animals to promote growth.

Sincerely,

Lynda Charlebois
